VOL. 9. No. 8 | CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON CO., PA. FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1908 | One Cent

SCHOOLS WILL OPEN FOR TERM ON SEPTEMBER 1ST

The Charleroi Public Schools will open on Tuesday September 1, 1908. All parents are requested to have their children ready to start on the first day. This means much to the organization of the schools, and is of no little consequence to the children. Children who are in school every day have a marked advantage over those who miss but a single day.

The grading of the schools has been changed considerably during the past year. Children who fall behind their classes because of irregular attendance, inattention to studies, or carelessness shall be demoted three months, and those who work ahead may be promoted three months at any time during the year.

Beginners will be admitted to school until September 14, 1908. This will include children coming six years of age before Jan. 1, 1909. The first week of January will be another entrance period for beginners

All children must be vaccinated before they can be admitted to school. This is a State law.

All non-resident pupils must make arrangements with the Superintendent for admittance to the Charleroi Schools.

Examinations for entrance to the Eighth Grade, the First and the Second years of the High School will be held in the Ninth St. school at 8 o'clock on Tuesday Aug. 25, 1908. This includes those who failed in these classes last year, provided they can prove that they have studied during the vacation.

The school buildings have been cleaned by the janitors, and it can safely be said that no district in the state can present a more pleasant lot of school rooms to its children. The janitors and the building commitee deserve much credit for their work in cleaning up the buildings. It remains for the teachers and the children to show their appreciation of these pleasant rooms by keeping them neat and clean.

The Superintendent may be seen in his office in the Ninth St. School between 8 p. m. and 11:30. a. m.

Saved Child From Fire.

Washington, Pa., Aug. 20.—Rushing through flames that scorched his flesh and clothing Albert Sims saved his child from death in their burning home near West Alexander. He was forced to jump from a second-story window with the child in his arms. His wife watched him dash into the burning house and when he did not return she fell fainting.

Storm In Greene County.

Waynesburg, Pa., Aug. 20.—Reports received today from the oil field near Bravo, this county, indicate that the damage from yesterday afternoon's storm will reach $6,000. Thirteen derricks were blown down. Most of them were the property of the South Penn Oil Company. Hundreds of valuable timber trees were uprooted.

The windows in Kent's store and in the homes of Porter Blaker, Charles Woodruff and Thomas Hoy were shattered. Ten tons of hay on the farms of William Lantz and Lawrence Geagret were burned by lightning. The heavy rain did much damage to [illegible]ods.

OFFICIALS MEET AND TALK OVER BRIDGE BUSINESS

Representatives of river interests and the engineer in charge of the construction of the new county bridge across the river at Monongahela were in conference in the office of Maj. H. C. Newcomer in the Federal building Pittsburg, yesterday and reached an agreement on the channel clearance for boats during the construction of the bridge. The plans were satisfactory and were approved by the rivermen, and it was understood that there would be a channel clearance of 200 feet maintained, until the structure is completed. Capt. J. Frank Tilley and Arthur Moran represented the river interest and A. Chalfant the contractors.

This week the finishing work is being put on the "drums' on the dam of new Lock No. 3, and thus finally finishing up an important work, covering several years in the building and installing of this great improvement by the government in the Monongahela river, just above Elizabeth. The dam of concrete construction is sufficient to make an adequate stage of water in the river for boating needs for most of the year, but in the drought of midsummer it has been found necessary in former years to husband the supply. For years a temporary device was resorted to, known as "bracketing" the dam, boards being set on edge along its coping across the river, and braced, to increase its height for a few weeks. The drums will accomplish the same purpose.

The shipments of coal through Lock 4 this week has been very light owing to the low stage of water. This morning the Clipper passed down with a tow consisting of 6 barges with a load of 30,000 bushels of coal. Yesterday there were forty-five barges and boats locked.

Citizens Celebrate.

The citizens of South Brownsville and Brownsville last evening celebrated the opening of the new postoffice at the former place. Parades, music, speeches and firework's display featured the evening.

CHERUBS ANNEX FIRST OF SERIES

With a Total Of Sixteen Hits Charleroi Outclasses Cokers.

BERT HUMPHRIES TWIRLS

It more resembled a slaughter than a ball game at the park yesterday afternoon, and the Cokers were the ones that furnished the blood for the slaughter. Charleroi landed on the heavers from over the way for sixteen safe drives which netted them eight tallies, while the Connellsville outfit never as much as crossed the home plate. The heaving was started by Wallace and the first inning plainly demonstrated that it wasn't his day. He stuck to the ship until the fifth inning was over and then decided he had enough. A new recruit by the name of Stillwagon was then chased out and while he was touched up for four safe drives in the remaining three rounds he did not allow a Cherub to cross the rum. Bert Humphries was the deliverer of slants for the Cherubs and while touched up for eight safe drives he issued a coat of the white fluid to the Cokers. The nearest chance they had of crossing was in the fourth round but a good throw to the plate by Dunn cut their chances short.

Charleroi marked up two of their eight runs in the first inning on three safe drives. In the third three more safe ones counted for two more runs. The worst inning was yet to come and the fifth proved to be the one as when it was over four tallies had been chalked upon an error, a batter hit and three singles and a double. The league failed to furnish a settler of disputes and Manager Osborne and Elmer Cannon did the work to the best of their ability. Score:

ONLY WOMAN CAPTAIN RETIRES FROM SERVICE

Mrs. Mary B. Green, experienced boat commander and pilot on the Ohio, Kanawha and Mississippi river steamers, has retired from the work after a Service of 10 years. She was the only woman on western waters who posessed the authority of the United States government to command and pilot steam vessels between Pittsburg and St. Louis. Mrs. Greene has turned over the command of the steamer Greenland to one of her husband's employes and hereafter will reside in the fine home Mr. Greene and herself have established in Hyde Park, Cincinnati.

For years Mrs. Green was known to every riverman the entire length of the three rivers. She has commanded the Greenland on special trips from Pittsburg to St. Louis. One trip in May, 1904, to the world's fair, attracted the attention of the rivermen of the United States.

Mrs. Green was well known along the Monongahela river. She has often been on boats up into these waters.

VETOES RIGHT OF WAY ORDINANCE

Mayor Blankenbuehler Of Monongahela Refuses To Sign Paper.

FOR P. R. R. WATER MAIN

The ordinance recently passed by the Monongahela city councils granting right of way to the Pennsylvania Railroad company to lay its water lines through the city, thus connecting the main from the mountains with Pittsburg, has been vetoed by Mayor Blankenbuehler. Monongahela is the only town along the valley where the right of way has been refused, and the only barrier in the way of connection between Pittsburg and the mountains.

The mayor's refusal to sign the ordinance came as a surprise to the residents as it was thought he was in favor of allowing the right of way, after the recent boiler explosion at Monongahela, when the P. R. R. company proffered the city the use of water from their main, and thus saved the residents from much suffering from a water famine.

The councils will likely take the matter up at the next meeting and perhaps pass the ordinance over the mayor's veto.

Schuck-Hancock.

Carey L. Schuck, editor of the Monessen News and Miss Hallie Hancock, were married yesterday at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hancock, on McKee avenue, in the presence of the immediate families. Rev. H. O. MacDonald, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

The bride and groom left town on the 7:40 train for an extended tour through the north, making Ontario the central stopping place. Upon their return to Monessen they will go to housekeeping in a neat and cozily furnished home on McKee avenue owned by the groom.

Mr. Schuck is one of the foremost young business men of the town and he has been a resident of Monessen for the past six years. He is one of the Republican nominees for the state legislature from the Westmoreland County. Miss Hancock is a popular young lady and has been an efficient school teacher for several years in the Monessen schools. We extend congratulations to the newly wedded pair and wish them a long and prosperous wedded life.

NEWELL TO HAVE SCHOOL BUILDING ERECTED SOON

Newell is to have a thoroughly modern and and handsome new school building, plans being already completed and the school board is now advertising for bids for its erection. The contract will be let September 8. The new building will be called the Jefferon. The structure will be two stories in height with eight rooms. But four rooms will be completed at present. The architecture is on the Colonial style and the completed building will present a very imposing appearance.

It will be built of gray and buff brick and terra-cotta. It will be modernly and conveniently furnished, and also fireproof J. M. Beall, of Monessen, is architect for the new building.

Will Install Big Engine.

Orders have just been issued for the closing down of the 40-inch mill of the Carnegie Steel Company at Duquesne on Saturday morning for a period of 10 to 12 weeks, pending the replacement of a wornout blooming mill engine, which has been in service for the past six years. The new engine, which is to take its place, has been completed by the McIntosh-Hemphill Company, and will at once be started for its final position. The work is a most important one as the new engine is to be a monster and much more powerful than that mahine that will be retired.

RINGGOLD MEN HOLD REUNION

West Middletown Entertains Survivors Of Famous Caivary.

NEXT AT BENTLEYVILLE

West Middletown, Aug. 21.—The borough of West Middletown was in gala attire yesterday in honor of the surviving members of the Ringgold cavalry which celebrated the 35th reunion of the company. Due honor was paid the memory of the members who fell during the awful struggle and those who died later. Fully 2,000 persons were in attendance to welcome the old soldiers both of the North and South.

Immediately after the afternoon session the business meeting of the company was held with I. N. Horne, the permanent secretary of the association present. It was decided to hold next meeting at Bentleyville on the camp grounds. An invitation was also extended to the association by the residents of Independence and the Bellview Camp Meeting association to hold their 36th annual reunion on the grounds of the Belleview assembly.

A. D. Crouch, of Bentleyville, was appointed chairman of the association and he will later appoint his secretary to assist him in arranging for the next reunion. The same vice presidents were re-appointed. They are: Co. A, David Hart; Co. B, W. H. Wooster; Co. C, J. C. McNulty; Co. D, H. H. Young; Co. E., Andrew McDonald; Co. F, H. C. Slusher; Co. G, W. G. Ryland; Co. H, J. A. Feton; Co. I, M. S Rex; Co. K, Elliot Ray; Co. L, A. B. Crouch; Co. M, J. F. Sheeder.

The following deaths were reported: Samuel Wilson, Co. F; John Dunn, Co. C; John Carter, Co. A; Hugh McGlumphy, Co. A; Capt. J. P. Hart, Co. A; W. R. Jamison, Co. A; John Marker, and George Orben. Co. E.

The campfire last night was one of the features of the reunion. It consisted mainly of reminiscences and many old members of the company told stories. Miss Allie Reed recited a selection. One of the important talks of the evening was made by Daniel Ashworth, pension agent of Washington City.

The homes of the people in this section were thrown open for the entertainment of the old vets, and over 100 remained over night.

LION TAMER HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM POISONING

Brownsville, Aug. 21.—John Winters, the lion tamer and keeper of the animals for the Smith Carnival Company, here from Moressen for a one week's stand, barely escaped with his life from pointing last night, after his work for the evening had been completed. He is not yet out of danger, but it is most likely that he will recover. Physicians worked over the man for several hours.

Winters was suffering from a severe headache and went into a dark tent to get some tablets to take to relieve the pain. Instead of getting the medicine for which he was seeking Winters secured some bi-chloride of mercury tablets and swallowed them. In a short while he was suffering intense agony and it was only by hard work that the physicians who were called pulled him through.

HUNTDERMARK WITHDRAWS PLEA

Acknowledges Guilt But Sentence Has Not Been Imposed.

PAXTON DOES NOT APPEAR

Following the introducing of a large amount of testimony by the commonwealth, in which it appeared to be proven conclusively that the defendant was guilty, in the case of the commonwealth against Ernest Huntdermark, the defense yesterday withdrew its plea of not guilty. Immediately the defendant entered a plea of guilty. Sentence was suspended until next Monday at 1 o'clock and the defendant was released under $1,000 bail for his appearance at that time. This is the illegal liquor selling case from Granville, particulars of which were mentioned yesterday, that Huntdermark operated a club, but merely a club for drinking purposes and controlled by Huntdermark were the allegations of the commonwealth.

The case of the commonwealth against Harry G. Paxton, charged with forgery and uttering and publishing forged papers was called yesterday, but the defendant failed to appear. His recognizance was declared forfeited. Paxton was out under $500 bail, an aunt, Mrs. Rachel Cornelius, being on his bond. Harry G. Paxton is a member of the well known Paxton family of this county. The private prosecutor in the cases against him was W. S. Nicodemus, of the First National bank, of California. Paxton forged several checks upon this bank, it is alleged, using the name of his brother, Dr. C. J. Paxton, of California, on several of them. They were for sums not more than $30. Rather than run a chance of going to the penitentiary Paxton evidently thought it better not to appear.

The testimony in the case of the commonwealth against Frank Moretti, charged with an unmentionable crime, is of a very revolting character. The private prosecutor is Francesco Devision, whose son Michael is said to have suffered at the hands of the defendant.

A cross suit is being heard in connection with this in which Michael Devissio is charged with assault and battery by Frank Moretti. The parties were all employed by the W. F. Howley Construction company on a county road near Finleyville, where the trouble occurred. It is stated that a few weeks ago the former attacked Moretti and severely cut him.

MONONGAHELA MAN FALLS AND IS HURT

W. A. Nicholson, a well known painter of Monongahela was seriously injured while at work yesterday afternoon, when he fell from a roof to the ground, a distance of about thirty feet. He was removed to his home in Fourth street and the extent of his injuries are not known.

He was painting the roof of the house of the property of James Corrin, corner of Fifth and Coal streets in Monongahela. In some manner he lost his footing, rolled from the roof and was precipitated to the ground about thirty feet below. Men working near saw the accident and hastened to Mr. Nicholsons side. He was in terrible agony and Dr. Graves was called to attend him. He relieved his sufferings as much as possible and then had him removed to his home. It is feared his back is broken.

Timber Preservation.

Plants for treating mine timbers and railroad ties are to be erected by the Philadelphia and Reading Iron company and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company in the Pennsylvania anthracite regio .

This action follows a series of tests with wood preservatives made by the Phifadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company which has extended over three years. The tests showed that by the proper application of creosote and zinc chloride the life of peeled, seasoned timber was more than doubled. Indeed, much of the timber treated may last throughout the life of the mine.

As a result of these tests, the companies are about to treat round and square mine timbers and railroad ties on a large scale.

The preservative treatment of mining timbers has become an important matter for anthracite miners because of the growing local scarcity of the supply of suitable timbers. The chestnut and oak near at hand have been practically exhausted, and the Pennsylvania pitch pine can be used only in small quantities. Birch, beech, and maple from New York, and locally and shortleaf pines from Virginia and South Carolina are now being drawn into use. At the same time economy of consumption is being sought through using preservatives to reduce the decay of timbers in the mines, and cutting over waste to save and utilize sound portions

The transportation of timber from remote forests means high freight charges, a great loss of time, and and uncertain supply.

Delay in timber shipment has frequently forced the suspension of operations requiring timbers of peculiar size. Closer utilization and particularly adding to the life of timber in service by means of chemical treatment afford the best ways of solving the problem.

With a view to widening the field of supply, several additional kinds of timber have been introduced in mining work. For example, for shaft and breaker-construction timber, Douglas first has been procured from the State of Washington at a cost not greater than the price of the longleaf pine; round cypress props have purchased at shortleaf pine prices, and a market has been found for black gum in the pulleys and rollers of slopes and rope haulage ways.

By way of utilizing partially decayed timber, around gangways props have been sawed into short planks and small dimension material, with profitable results. It is said that a surprisingly large amount of sound lumber may be cut out of discarded mine props formerly considered rotten and worthless.

Among the Exchanges

Worthy of Imitation.

The lad who has his whole active life before him is worth little unless he has already felt the secret stirrings of ambition. If he is fit for the century into which he has been born he will wish to be a man among men, doing his share of the work devolving upon the generation to which he belongs. He should realize that there is but one way to achieve success and that is to deserve it.

He has the benefit of the experience of the older generations. He sees what other men have done. Some of those men were unequal to the demands made upon them by their times. Their sun went down in darkness. Others seized opportunity and made good in the presence of their countrymen. What they had to do they did honestly, sincerely, courageously, and according to their ability. No matter how humble the sphere they occupied they left a good name behind them.

It is the privilege of the coming Americans to imitate that which is good. They should avoid the pitfalls which trapped the unwary feet of the unfit and the unsucessful. They should cultivate the virtues which adorned the love and veneration of mankind.—Altoona Tribune.

The habit of reading in bed is so common that one might conclude that its injuriousness is not generally understood. But those who indulge in it may find the statement of a writer in a health magazine, that reading in bed if often the cause of astigmatism, interesting as suggesting the risk they are running. Astigmatism is a big word, but it stands for something very unpleasant for those who become its victims. Astigmatism, which is in many cases hereditary, in a condition wherein the refractive powers differ in different meridians of the eye. It is caused by irregularity in the curvature of the cornea. People who read in bed to pass away the time during and after severe illness should remember that at such times the whole sytsem is in a weakened condition, and peculiarly susceptiole to injury from over strains of any kind. When reading in bed is practiced in a reclining position it taxes the muscles of the eye, and the action of the muscles upon the form of the organ, endeavoring to adjust it to trying positions is very likely to set up trouble which may last a life time, becoming more aggrviated as the victim grows older.—McKeesport Times.

REUNION OF 54TH AND 63TH REGIMENT

The annual reunions of the Fifty-fourth and Sixty-third regiments, Pennsylvania volunteers, together with the outing for the members of the G. A. R. and the American Veterans of foreign service, at Olympia park, McKeesport, drew many to that resort yesterday afternoon and evening. John J. Ward, A. V. of F. S., and Col. Sam Black post. No. 59. G. A. R., were the hosts.

There was a parade in the morning and another in the evening, when a company of United States reserves arrived. A sham battle was fought at 7 o'clock. At the camp fire that followed, with Capt. C. C. Fawcett as chairman, the speakers included Congressmen Barchfeld and Burke, Joseph Langfitt, former Senator Williams of Butler, Murray Livingston of Pittsburg and Maj.-Gen. Wiley of Franklin.

A Home Curfew.

There is a newspaper printed in Susquehanna county whose editor has the right idea about the curfew business. He advises every family into which his paper finds its way as a friendly visitor to institute a curfew of its own. When that comes to pass there will be no boys and girls on the public streets at an unseasonable hour. Each head of the family will see to that. The father will be home at a proper hour himself and will make it his business to enforce the local curfew ordinance with rigid impartiality. If each home in the land were to adopt this method and adhere to it much good would result and many a lad who is likely to end in the penitentiary under existing conditions would grow up into a useful citizen. It will not do for parents to try to shift their personal responsibility to the shoulders of the state.

Work was started on Tuesday morning on the grading of the Millville and Bloomsburg trolley road in Columbia county, and 100 men all Americans, were given employment. The employers say no foreign labor will be employed if enough Americans can be secured.

Oh!

While yawning on Monday, Mrs. Harry McClintock, of near Sheppton, Luzerne county, dislocated her jaw. This unpleasantness had occurred before, but she had always been able to replace it. This time her efforts were futile and terrified, she ran a mile and a half to a doctor, who found it necessary to chloroform her before he could replace the dislocated members.

Canonsburg Wants Station.

An effort is being made by the officials of the Pennsylvania railroad to get bids for a station building at Canonsburg. For many months, through heat and cold, through rain and snow, the patrons of the railroad have been taking whatever the elements have given them, and although many a kick was registered, little has been done in the way of providing shelter for those who make daily trips to Pittsburg or who travel to other points.

To All Whom This May Concern.

Charleroi Pa., Aug. 17, 1908.

This is to notify the public that my wife, Daisy Laclaire has left my bed and board, without just provocation. All persons are warned not to trust or harbor her, as I will pay no bills or contracts made by her.

Respectfully
eod-3tp Louis Laclaire.

Making More Than a Living
Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank. Four per cent. intereet paid in savings department.

GRAND JURY FINISHES WORK, IS DISCHARGED

The grand jury completed its duties yesterday and was discharged with the thanks of the court. It used to be that a grand jury in this county sat for only a few days, sometimes for perhaps a week, but the criminal work has so increased that the grand jury is kept in session almost two weeks. Yesterday the grand jury made an inspection of the jail. No suggestions or recommendations were made by the jury. Of the list of criminal cases on the docket for this term several were continued, settled, or otherwise disposed of.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Washing Black Lace.

Black lace should not be washed unless it is decidedly dirty, but should be well shaken to remove as much dust as possible and then dipped in a solution of deep blue gum water. When the lace has become dirty and brownish in color the best plan is to wash it in soapsuds and then rinse and stiffen it in deep blue water, to which the gum water has been added. The deep blue water will help to restore the lace to its original black.

The lace should be all rolled in an old cloth for a short time and then pinned out with the cloth between it and the sheet, as it imparts a blue stain, which it would be necessary to remove from the sheet.

When the lace is quite dry remove the pins and place a piece of tissue paper over it. Iron it with the paper between it and the iron. If the iron is placed directly on the lace it will leave a gloss on it which is not pretty and which stamps it as "washed lace."

For Inflamed Eyelids.

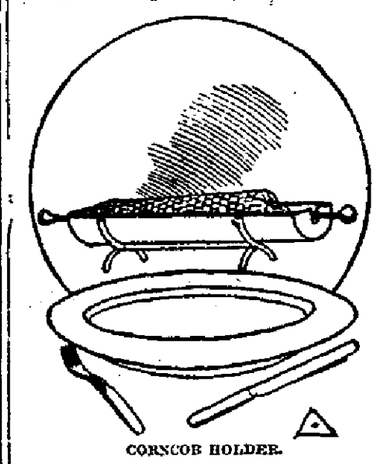
Anything concerning the eyes should never be neglected, and as soon as the eyelids become inflamed the following lotion should be used: Two drams of glycerin and borax are beaten with the white of one egg.

One wineglassful of cold water is added, and the mixture is beaten again. This should be applied to the edges of the lids nightly. When all soreness and inflammation have passed away (and this will soon be the case, as the preparation is healing) the lids may be touched nightly with white of egg beaten with three times the quantity of cold water.

This must be freshly made each night. The preparation is astringent and should be applied as a film only and with the finger tips. In case any unpleasant tightness from accidental overuse should appear it may be remedied by bathing in cold water.

A Table Convenience.

Through the ingenuity of a New York restaurant man corn on the cob may now be eaten without annoyance. This man has devised a combination corn holder which not only keeps the ear from rolling off one's plate, but also enables the diner to manipulate it by means of a rod at either end and avoid smearing the fingers. The holder herewith shown consists of a trough a little longer and wider than an ear of corn and with slots in its end walls. Two rods, with knobs by which to hold them, are thrust into the ends of the cob. When eating the corn the cob can be held by these handles, and when the ear is laid down it can be placed in the trough without fear that it will roll off the plate and leave a track of salted butter on the hostess' snowy linen.



CORNCOB HOLDER.

How to Insert Ribbon.

When drawing ribbon through beading in a waist that buttons in the back, divide ribbon in half and start in the center front of waist and draw ribbon each way. This will leave both ends even and is half the work, and the ribbon will not be so crushed. For a corset cover, start in the center of the back. The neatest and quickest way to finish the neck of a child's dress is to turn the seam on the wrong side and face with narrow tape or turn seam on right side and face with fancy finishing braid.

Cleaning Velveteen.

To wash velveteen make a nice lukewarm lather with a good brand of soap and wash through just as you would a flannel. The water should be removed by pressure, as twisting is likely to produce a shaded appearance. After the water is removed the velveteen should be well shaken and hung in front of the fire, with the right side toward the heat, which will raise the pile as the water passes away. When it is dry place over a thick blanket and iron on the wrong side.

Calla Lilies.

Beat three eggs and a rounding cupful of sugar together, add two-thirds cupful of flour and one-half teaspoonful of lemon flavoring. Drop in teaspoonfuls on a buttered sheet, allowing plenty of room to spread in baking. Bake in a moderate oven, take up with a knife and roll at once into lily shape. Bake but four or five at a time, because if the cakes cool even a little they will break. Fill each with a little beaten and sweetened cream.

Remedy For Coughing.

Often a severe spell of coughing can be checked by drinking down as quickly as possible a glassful of cold water. If one is subject to spells of coughing at night, try this remedy, which, it is claimed, never fails: Wring a cloth out of strong carbolic acid water just before getting into bed and hang it over the head of the bed. The whiff of odor from the cloth will prevent the cough.

WHY NOT TRY IT?

The wonderful influence of Printers Ink is demonstrated to you daily. It has an influence that cannot be brought in any other way. Progressive merchants the country over well know that their business would be a failure if they failed to take advantage of its wonderful drawing power

DONORA MAN WANTS TRANSFER OF LICENSE

William Coulson, of Donora, yesterday made application to the court for the transfer of the retail liquor license of Edwad Haley, of the Central hotel, at Roscoe. Mr. Coulson recently purchased the hotel property from Mr. Haley. The court fixed August 31, at 10 o'clock, as the time for a hearing on the application.

Mr. Coulson's reputation as a man of temperate habits and good moral character was vouched for by the following citizens of Roscoe: A. Thomas, Joe T. Cowen, J. E. Underwood, John Metcalf, W. A. Furlong, Charles Langford, H. Abrams, Henry Goble, J. Mires, Andrew McKibbin, William Weston, John Fitch, G. G. Glofrety, John Allen. A bond for $2,000 accompanied the application.

State President Advises

The members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, now in session in Philadelphia, have been given some excellent advice by their state president. If generally followed by those who were born abroad it would insure to their benefit and to the welfare of the republic.

No man is to be judged by the accident of birth. Those of us who saw the light for the first time beneath the Stars and Stripes ought to be good citizens. Sometimes, however, we are far below the standard. The man who had fewer opportunities in his childhood than we may prove better citizens. We should never forget what our country demands of us in the way of patriotic service. Our larger opportunities impose heavier responsibilities.

The state president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians urge all the members who are not already American citizens to become so at the earliest opportunity. He suggested that the order should emphasize the value and importance of citizenship and he would have the individual members prove ever worthy and patriotic lovers of the land of their birth or adoption. It's exellent advice for every American citizen. We should all be Americans, regardless of the spot of earth whichs heitered us in infancy, and we should all be animated by an earnest and sincere desire to prove by our obedience to law and our devotion to the principles of freedom that we are indeed worthy of the honors which cluster about American citizenship.—Tribune.

Rotten.

New South Brownsville has now furnished the making of a first class scandal in which a matrimonial misfit figured largely.

The lady and her husband have had a speaking acquaintance for some time but she did not like keeping house for him and frequently absented herself from the domicile that was not congenial to her. She has kept some boarders, among them a drummer in whose company she was seen frequently. The husband had seen them come down street and, gathering some friends, awaited their return with a large supply of aged eggs. Soon the couple came back and as they stepped on the porch a well directed volley gave them a lovely shower of golden yellow and stickey white.

They stood not on the order of their going but got in as quickly as possible. They didn't stop to pick up the shells and the way that odoriferous deposit got in the lady's back hair and down the man's back was a fright.

Boilers Suffer From Acid.

United States Inspector George H. Atkinson, of steamboat boilers, in the local district, said yesterday that rivermen are having trouble with the leaking of boilers on the stemboats, which is caused by the acid in the local rivers. About 8 or 10 boats recently have been put out of commission, while the boilers are being repaired.

Inspector Atkinson says that the acid used in wire and tin mills is the cause of the trouble. When unfit for further use in the mills, it is thrown in the rivers.

While the rivers are at the low stage, this acid is not washed away and eats into the rivets and plates of the boilers, making the calking imperfect. When the rivers are high, this acid is washed away and steamboat boilers are not damaged so much by it.

THE CHARLEROI MAIL

Entered second class mail at Charleroi, June 16, 1908, according to Act of Congress of March 3, 1879

VOL. 9. No. 8 CHARLEROI, WASHINGTON CO., PA. FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1908 One Cent

SCHOOLS WILL OPEN FOR TERM ON SEPTEMBER 1ST

The Charleroi Public Schools will open on Tuesday September 1, 1908. All parents are requested to have their children ready to start on the first day. This means much to the organization of the schools, and is of no little consequence to the children. Children who are in school every day have a marked advantage over those who miss but a single day.

The grading of the schools has been [illegible] during the past year. Children who fail behind their classes because of irregular attendance, inattention to studies, or carelessness shall be demoted three months, and those who work ahead may be promoted three months at any time during the year.

Beginners will be admitted to school until September 14, 1908. This will include children coming six years of age before Jan. 1, 1909. The first week of January will be another entrance period for beginners

All children must be vaccinated before they can be admitted to school. This is a State law.

All non-resident pupils must make arrangements with the Superintendent for admittance to the Charleroi Schools.

Examinations for entrance to the Eighth Grade, the First and the Second years of the High School will be held in the Ninth St. school at 8 o'clock on Tuesday Aug. 25, 1908. This includes those who failed in these classes last year, provided they can prove that they have studied during the vacation.

The school buildings have been cleaned by the janitors, and it can safely be said that no district in the state can present a more pleasant lot of school rooms to its children. The janitors and the building commitee deserve much credit for their work in cleaning up the buildings. It remains for the teachers and the children to show their appreciation of these pleasant rooms by keeping them neat and clean.

The Superintendent may be seen in his office in the Ninth St. School between 8 p. m. and 11:30. a. m.

Storm In Greene County.

Waynesburg, Pa., Aug. 20.—Reports received today from the oil field near Bravo, this county, indicate that the damage from yesterday afternoon's storm will reach $6,000. Thirteen derricks were blown down. Most of them were the property of the South Penn Oil Company. Hundreds of valuable timber trees were uprooted.

The windows in Kest's store and in the homes of Porter Blaker, Charles Woodruff and Thomas Hoy were shattered. Ten tons of hay on the farms of William Lantz and Lawrence Geager were burned by lightning. The heavy rain did much damage to eods.

OFFICIALS MEET AND TALK OVER BRIDGE BUSINESS

Representatives of river interests and the engineer in charge of the construction of the new county bridge across the river at Monongahela were in conference in the office of Maj. H. C. Newcomer in the Federal building Pittsburg, yesterday and reached an agreement on the channel clearance for boats during the construction of the bridge. The plans were satisfactory and were approved by the rivermen, and it was understood that there would be a channel clearance of 200 feet maintained, until the structure is completed. Capt. J. Frank Tilley and Arthur Moran represented the river interest and A. Chalfant the contractors.

This week the finishing work is being put on the "drums" on the dam of new Lock No. 3, and thus finally finishing up an important work, covering several years in the building and installing of this great improvement by the government in the Monongahela river, just above Elizabeth. The dam of concrete construction is sufficient to make an adequate stage of water in the river for boating needs for most of the year, but in the drought of midsummer it has been found necessary in former years to husband the supply. For years a temporary device was resorted to, known as "bracketing" the dam, boards being set on edge along its coping across the river, and braced, to increase its height for a few weeks. The drums will accomplish the same purpose.

The shipments of coal through Lock 4 this week has been very light owing to the low stage of water. This morning the Clipper passed down with a tow consisting of 6 barges with a load of 30,000 bushels of coal. Yesterday there were forty-five barges and boats locked.

Citizens Celebrate.

The citizens of South Brownsville and Brownsville last evening celebrated the opening of the new postoffice at the former place. Parades, music, speeches and fireworks display featured the evening.

CHERUBS ANNEX FIRST OF SERIES

With a Total Of Sixteen Hits Charleroi Outclasses Cokers.

BERT HUMPHRIES TWIRLS

It more resembled a slaughter than a ball game at the park yesterday afternoon, and the Cokers were the ones that furnished the blood for the slaughter. Charleroi landed on the heavers from over the way for sixteen safe drives which netted them eight tallies, while the Connellsville outfit never as much as crossed the home plate. The heaving was started by Wallace and the first inning plainly demonstrated that it wasn't his day. He stuck to the ship until the fifth inning was over and then decided he had enough. A new recruit by the name of Stillwagon was then chased out and while he was touched up for four safe drives in the remaining three rounds he did not allow a Cherub to cross the rum. Bert Humphries was the deliverer of slants for the Cherubs and while touched up for eight safe drives he issued a coat of the white fluid to the Cokers. The nearest chance they had of crossing was in the fourth round but a good throw to the plate by Dunn cut their chances short.

Charleroi marked up two of their eight runs in the first inning on three safe drives. In the third three more safe ones counted for two more runs. The worst inning was yet to come and the fifth proved to be the one as when it was over four tallies had been chalked upon an error, a batter hit and three singles and a double. The league failed to furnish a settler of disputes and Manager Osborne and Elmer Cannon did the work to the best of their ability. Score:

ONLY WOMAN CAPTAIN RETIRES FROM SERVICE

Mrs. Mary B. Green, experienced boat commander and pilot on the Ohio, Kanawha and Mississippi river steamers, has retired from the work after a Service of 10 years. She was the only woman on western waters who posessed the authority of the United States government to command and pilot steam vessels between Pittsburg and St. Louis. Mrs. Greene has turned over the command of the steamer Greenland to one of her husband's employes and hereafter will reside in the fine home Mr. Greene and herself have established in Hyde Park, Cincinnati.

For years Mrs. Green was known to every riverman the entire length of the three rivers. She has commanded the Greenland on special trips from Pittsburg to St. Louis. One trip in May, 1904, to the world's fair, attracted the attention of the rivermen of the United States.

Mrs. Green was well known along the Monongahela river. She has often been on boats up into these waters.

VETOES RIGHT OF WAY ORDINANCE

Mayor Blankenbuehler Of Monongahela Refuses To Sign Paper.

FOR P. R. R. WATER MAIN

The ordinance recently passed by the Monongahela city councils granting right of way to the Pennsylvania Railroad company to lay its water lines through the city, thus connecting the main from the mountains with Pittsburg, has been vetoed by Mayor Blankenbuehler. Monongahela is the only town along the valley where the right of way has been refused, and the only barrier in the way of connection between Pittsburg and the mountains.

The mayor's refusal to sign the ordinance came as a surprise to the residents as it was thought he was in favor of allowing the right of way, after the recent boiler explosion at Monongahela, when the P. R. R. company proffered the city the use of water from their main, and thus saved the residents from much suffering from a water famine.

The councils will likely take the matter up at the next meeting and perhaps pass the ordinance over the mayor's veto.

Schuck-Hancock.

Carey L. Schuck, editor of the Monessen News and Miss Hallie Hancock, were married yesterday at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hancock, on McKee avenue, in the presence of the immediate families. Rev. H. O. MacDonald, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

The bride and groom left town on the 7:40 train for an extended tour through the north, making Ontario the central stopping place. Upon their return to Monessen they will go to housekeeping in a neat and cozily furnished home on McKee avenue owned by the groom.

Mr. Schuck is one of the foremost young business men of the town and he has been a resident of Monessen for the past six years. He is one of the Republican nominees for the state legislature from the Westmoreland County. Miss Hancock is a popular young lady and has been an efficient school teacher for several years in the Monessen schools. We extend congratulations to the newly wedded pair and wish them a long and prosperous wedded life.

NEWELL TO HAVE SCHOOL BUILDING ERECTED SOON

Newell is to have a thoroughly modern and and handsome new school building, plans being already completed and the school board is now advertising for bids for its erection. The contract will be let September 8. The new building will be called the Jefferon. The structure will be two stories in height with eight rooms. But four rooms will be completed at present. The architecture is on the Colonial style and the completed building will present a very imposing appearance.

It will be built of gray and buff brick and terra-cotta. It will be modernly and conveniently furnished, and also fireproof J. M. Beail, of Monessen, is architect for the new building.

Will Install Big Engine.

Orders have just been issued for the closing down of the 40-inch mill of the Carnegie Steel Company at Duquesne on Saturday morning for a period of 10 to 12 weeks, pending the replacement of a wornout blooming mill engine, which has been in service for the past six years. The new engine, which is to take its place, has been completed by the McIntosh-Hemphill Company, and will at once be started for its final position. The work is a most important one as the new engine is to be a monster and much more powerful than that mahine that will be retired.

RINGGOLD MEN HOLD REUNION

West Middletown Entertains Survivors Of Famous Calvary.

NEXT AT BENTLEYVILLE

West Middletown, Aug. 21.—The borough of West Middletown was in gala attire yesterday in honor of the surviving members of the Ringgold cavalry which celebrated the 35th reunion of the company. Due honor was paid the memory of the members who fell during the awful struggle and those who died later. Fully 2,000 persons were in attendance to welcome the old soldiers both of the North and South.

Immediately after the afternoon session the business meeting of the company was held with I. N. Horne, the permanent secretary of the association present. It was decided to hold next meeting at Bentleyville on the camp grounds. An invitation was also extended to the association by the residents of Independence and the Bellview Camp Meeting association to hold their 36th annual reunion on the grounds of the Belleview assembly.

A. D. Crouch, of Bentleyville, was appointed chairman of the association and he will later appoint his secretary to assist him in arranging for the next reunion. The same vice presidents were re-appointed. They are: Co. A, David Hart; Co. B, W. H. Wooster; Co. C, J. C. McNulty; Co. D, H. H. Young; Co. E., Andrew McDonald; Co. F, H. C. Slusher; Co. G, W. G. Ryland; Co. H, J. A. Fetton; Co. I, M. S Rex; Co. K, Elliot Ray; Co. L, A. B. Crouch; Co. M, J. P. Sheeder.

The following deaths were reported: Samuel Wilson, Co. F; John Dunn, Co. C; John Carter, Co. A; Hugh McGlumphy, Co. A; Capt. J. P. Hart, Co. A; W. R. Jamison, Co. A; John Marker, and George Orben, Co. E.

The campfire last night was one of the features of the reunion. It consisted mainly of reminiscences and many old members of the company told stories. Miss Allie Reed recited a selection. One of the important talks of the evening was made by Daniel Ashworth, pension agent of Washington City.

The homes of the people in this section were thrown open for the entertainment of the old vets, and over 100 remained over night.

LION TAMER HAS NARROW ESCAPE FROM POISONING

Brownsville, Aug. 21.—John Winters, the lion tamer and keeper of the animals for the Smith Carnival Company, here from Monessen for a one week's stand, barely escaped with his life from pointing last night, after his work for the evening had been completed. He is not yet out of danger, but it is most likely that he will recover. Physicians worked over the man for several hours.

Winters was suffering from a severe headache and went into a dark tent to get some tablets to take to relieve the pain. Instead of getting the medicine for which he was seeking Winters secured some bi-chloride of mercury tablets and swallowed them. In a short while he was suffering intense agony and it was only by hard work that the physicians who were called pulled him through.

HUNTDERMARK WITHDRAWS PLEA

Acknowledges Guilt But Sentence Has Not Been Imposed.

PAXTON DOES NOT APPEAR

Following the introducing of a large amount of testimony by the commonwealth, in which it appeared to be proven conclusively that the defendant was guilty, in the case of the commonwealth against Ernest Huntdermark, the defense yesterday withdrew its plea of not guilty. Immediately the defendant entered a plea of guilty. Sentence was suspended until next Monday at 1 o'clock and the defendant was released under $1,000 bail for his appearance at that time. This is the illegal liquor selling case from Granville, particulars of which were mentioned yesterday, that Huntdermark operated a club, but merely a club for drinking purposes and controlled by Huntdermark were the allegations of the commonwealth.

The case of the commonwealth against Harry G. Paxton, charged with forgery and uttering and publishing forged papers was called yesterday, but the defendant failed to appear. His recognizance was declared forfeited. Paxton was out under $500 bail, an aunt, Mrs. Rachel Cornelius, being on his bond. Harry G. Paxton is a member of the well known Paxton family of this county. The private prosecutor in the cases against him was W. S. Nicodemus, of the First National bank, of California. Paxton forged several checks upon this bank, it is alleged, using the name of his brother, Dr. C. J. Paxton, of California, on several of them. They were for sums not more than $80. Rather than run a chance of going to the penitentiary Paxton evidently thought it better not to appear.

The testimony in the case of the commonwealth against Frank Moretti, charged with an unmentionable crime, is of a very revolting character. The private prosecutor is Francesco Devision, whose son Michael is said to have suffered at the hands of the defendant.

A cross suit is being heard in connection with this in which Michael Devissio is charged with assault and battery by Frank Moretti. The parties were all employed by the W. F. Howley Construction company on a county road near Finleyville, where the trouble occurred. It is stated that a few weeks ago the former attacked Moretti and severely cut him.

MONONGAHELA MAN FALLS AND IS HURT

W. A. Nicholson, a well known painter of Monongahela was seriously injured while at work yesterday afternoon, when he fell from a roof to the ground, a distance of about thirty feet. He was removed to his home in Fourth street and the extent of his injuries are not known.

He was painting the roof of the house of the property of James Corrin, corner of Fifth and Coal streets in Monongahela. In some manner he lost his footing, rolled from the roof and was precipitated to the ground about thirty feet below. Men working near saw the accident and hastened to Mr. Nicholsons side. He was in terrible agony and Dr. Graves was called to attend him. He relieved his sufferings as much as possible and then had him removed to his home. It is feared his back is broken.

Timber Preservation.

Plants for treating mine timbers and railroad ties are to be erected by the Philadelphia and Reading Iron company and the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad company in the Pennsylvania anthracite region.

This action follows a series of tests with wood preservatives made by the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company which has extended over three years. The tests showed that by the proper application of creosote and zinc chloride the life of peeled, seasoned timber was more than doubled. Indeed, much of the timber treated may last throughout the life of the mine.

As a result of these tests, the companies are about to treat round and square mine timbers and railroad ties on a large scale.

The preservative treatment of mining timbers has become an important matter for anthracite miners because of the growing local scarcity of the supply of suitable timbers. The chestnut and oak near at hand have been practically exhausted, and the Pennsylvania pitch pine can be used only in small quantities. Birch, beech, and maple from New York, and locally and shortleaf pines from Virginia and South Carolina are now being drawn into use. At the same time economy of consumption is being sought through using preservatives to reduce the decay of timbers in the mines, and cutting over waste to save and utilize sound portions.

The transportation of timber from remote forests means high freight charges, a great loss of time, and and uncertain supply.

Delay in timber shipment has frequently forced the suspension of operations requiring timbers of peculiar size. Closer utilization and particularly adding to the life of timber in service by means of chemical treatment afford the best ways of solving the problem.

With a view to widening the field of supply, several additional kinds of timber have been introduced in mining work. For example, for shaft and breaker-construction timber, Douglas first has been procured from the State of Washington at a cost not greater than the price of the longleaf pine; round cypress props have purchased at shortleaf pine prices, and a market has been found for black gum in the pulleys and rollers of slopes and rope haulage ways.

By way of utilizing partially decayed timber, around gangways props have been sawed into short planks and small dimension material, with profitable results. It is said that a surprisingly large amount of sound lumber may be cut out of discarded mine props formerly considered rotten and worthless.

Among the Exchanges

The lad who has his whole active life before him is worth little unless he has already felt the secret stirrings of ambition. If he is fit for the century into which he has been born he will wish to be a man among men, doing his share of the work devolving upon the generation to which he belongs. He should realize that there is but one way to achieve success and that is to deserve it.

He has the benefit of the experience of the older generations. He sees what other men have done. Some of those men were unequal to the demands made upon them by their times. Their sun went down in darkness. Others seized opportunity and made good in the presence of their countrymen. What they had to do they did honestly, sincerely, courageously, and according to their ability. No matter how humble the sphere they occupied they left a good name behind them.

It is the privilege of the coming Americans to imitate that which is good. They should avoid the pitfalls which trapped the unwary feet of the unfit and the unsuccessful. They should cultivate the virtues which adorned the love and veneration of mankind.—Altoona Tribune.

The habit of reading in bed is so common that one might conclude that its injuriousness is not generally understood. But those who indulge in it may find the statement of a writer in a health magazine, that reading in bed it often the cause of astigmatism, interesting as suggesting the risk they are running. Astigmatism is a big word, but it stands for something very unpleasant for those who become its victims. Astigmatism, which is in many cases hereditary, in a condition wherein the refractive powers differ in different meridians of the eye. It is caused by irregularity in the curvature of the cornea. People who read in bed to pass away the time during and after severe illness should remember that at such times the whole sytsem is in a weakened condition, and peculiarly susceptible to injury from over strains of any kind. When reading in bed is practiced in a reclining position it taxes the muscles of the eye, and the action of the muscles upon the form of the organ, endeavoring to adjust it to trying positions is very likely to set up trouble which may last a life time, becoming more aggrviated as the victim grows older.—McKeesport Times.

REUNION OF 54TH AND 63TH REGIMENT

The annual reunions of the Fifty-fourth and Sixty-third regiments, Pennsylvania volunteers, together with the outing for the members of the G. A. R. and the American Veterans of foreign service, at Olympia park, McKeesport, drew many to that resort yesterday afternoon and evening. John J. Ward, A. V. of F. S., and Col. Sam Black post, No. 59, G. A. R., were the hosts.

There was a parade in the morning and another in the evening, when a company of United States reserves arrived. A sham battle was fought at 7 o'clock. At the camp fire that followed, with Capt. C. C. Fawcett as chairman, the speakers included Congressmen Barchfeld and Burke, Joseph Langfitt, former Senator Williams of Butler, Murray Livingston of Pittsburg and Maj.-Gen. Wiley of Franklin.

A Home Curfew.

There is a newspaper printed in Susquehanna county whose editor has the right idea about the curfew business. He advises every family into which his paper finds its way as a friendly visitor to institute a curfew of its own. When that comes to pass there will be no boys and girls on the public streets at an unseasonable hour. Each head of the family will see to that. The father will be home at a proper hour himself and will make it his business to enforce the local curfew ordinance with rigid impartiality. If each home in the land were to adopt this method and adhere to it much good would result and many a lad who is likely to end in the penitentiary under existing conditions would grow up into a useful citizen. It will not do for parents to try to shift their personal responsibility to the shoulders of the state.

Contracts were signed at Pottsville on Tuesday for the erection of a ten-mile electric arc-light line in Western Schuykill county, to illuminate different towns and rural homes from Tower City to Lykens.

Richard Morgan, aged 34 years, member of council of Summit Hill, Carbon county, was killed on Tuesday by a fall of coal in the Lehigh Coal and Navigation company's No. 9 mine.

John Barnish, a grocer of Wilkes Barre in order to collect a bill kidnaped the baby of his debtor but on Tuesday morning he was placed under arrest because it is claimed he took an illegal way to enforce payment of his claim.

A plant for the manufacture of ozone has just been completed by Westinghouse Church, Kerr and Co., for the homeopathic hospital in Pittsburg, the second of its kind in the world, the other being in Ireland.

Work was started on Tuesday morning on the grading of the Millville and Bloomsburg trolley road in Columbia county, and 100 men all Americans, were given employment. The employers say no foreign labor will be employed if enough Americans can be secured.

Oh!

While yawning on Monday, Mrs. Harry McClintock, of near Shoppton, Luzerne county, dislocated her jaw. This unpleasantness had occurred before, but she had always been able to replace it. This time her efforts were futile and terrified, she ran a mile and a half to a doctor, who found it necessary to chloroform her before he could replace the dislocated members.

Canonsburg Wants Station.

An effort is being made by the officials of the Pennsylvania railroad to get bids for a station building at Canonsburg. For many months, through heat and cold, through rain and snow, the patrons of the railroad have been taking whatever the elements have given them, and although many a kick was registered, little has been done in the way of providing shelter for those who make daily trips to Pittsburg or who travel to other points.

Making More Than a Living
Nearly every man who works steadily makes more than a living. During these slow times the men who have saved something appreciate what it is to have something laid away for a rainy day. A few cents a day soon counts up, and when savings are placed in a bank at a tidy interest the sum soon grows to proportions that make it a safeguard against want when work is not plentiful. Figure up how much more than a living you are making now, and place the difference in this bank. Four per cent. interest paid in savings department.

GRAND JURY FINISHES WORK, IS DISCHARGED

The grand jury completed its duties yesterday and was discharged with the thanks of the court. It used to be that a grand jury in this county sat for only a few days, sometimes for perhaps a week, but the criminal work has so increased that the grand jury is kept in session almost two weeks. Yesterday the grand jury made an inspection of the jail. No suggestions or recommendations were made by the jury. Of the list of criminal cases on the docket for this term several were continued, settled, or otherwise disposed of.

FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

Washing Black Lace.

Black lace should not be washed unless it is decidedly dirty, but should be well shaken to remove as much dust as possible and then dipped in a solution of deep blue gum water. When the lace has become dirty and brownish in color the best plan is to wash it in soapsuds and then rinse and stiffen it in deep blue water, to which the gum water has been added. The deep blue water will help to restore the lace to its original black.

The lace should be all rolled in an old cloth for a short time and then pinned out with the cloth between it and the sheet, as it imparts a blue stain, which it would be necessary to remove from the sheet.

When the lace is quite dry remove the pins and place a piece of tissue paper over it. Iron it with the paper between it and the iron. If the iron is placed directly on the lace it will leave a gloss on it which is not pretty and which stamps it as "washed lace."

For Inflamed Eyelids.

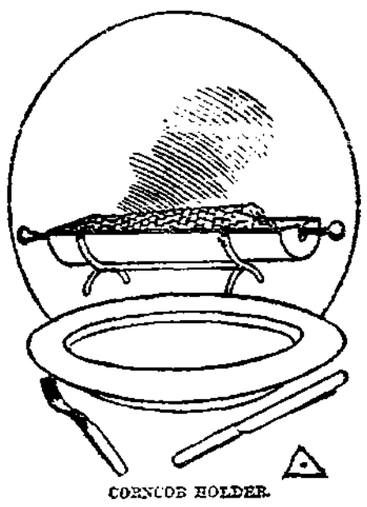
Anything concerning the eyes should never be neglected, and as soon as the eyelids become inflamed the following lotion should be used: Two drams of glycerin and borax are beaten with [illegible] white of one egg.

One wineglassful of cold water is added, and the mixture is beaten again. This should be applied to the edges of the lids nightly. When all soreness and inflammation have passed away (and this will soon be the case, as the preparation is healing) the lids may be touched nightly with white of egg beaten with three times the quantity of cold water.

This must be freshly made each night. The preparation is astringent and should be applied as a film only and with the finger tips. In case any unpleasant tightness from accidental overuse should appear it may be remedied by bathing in cold water.

A Table Convenience.

Through the ingenuity of a New York restaurant man corn on the cob may now be eaten without annoyance. This man has devised a combination corn holder which not only keeps the ear from rolling off one's plate, but also enables the diner to manipulate it by means of a rod at either end and avoid smearing the fingers. The holder herewith shown consists of a trough a little longer and wider than an ear of corn and with slots in its end walls. Two rods, with knobs by which to hold them, are thrust into the ends of the cob. When eating the corn the cob can be held by these handles, and when the ear is laid down it can be placed in the trough without fear that it will roll off the plate and leave a track of salted butter on the hostess' snowy linen.



CORN COB HOLDER.

How to Insert Ribbon.

When drawing ribbon through beading in a waist that buttons in the back, divide ribbon in half and start in the center front of waist and draw ribbon each way. This will leave both ends even and is half the work, and the ribbon will not be so crushed. For a corset cover, start in the center of the back. The neatest and quickest way to finish the neck of a child's dress is to turn the seam on the wrong side and face with narrow tape or turn seam on right side and face with fancy finishing braid.

Cleaning Velveteen.

To wash velveteen make a nice lukewarm lather with a good brand of soap and wash through just as you would a flannel. The water should be removed by pressure, as twisting is likely to produce a shaded appearance. After the water is removed the velveteen should be well shaken and hung in front of the fire, with the right side toward the heat, which will raise the pile as the water passes away. When it is dry place over a thick blanket and iron on the wrong side.

Calla Lilies.

Beat three eggs and a rounding cupful of sugar together, add two-thirds cupful of flour and one-half teaspoonful of lemon flavoring. Drop in teaspoonfuls on a buttered sheet, allowing plenty of room to spread in baking. Bake in a moderate oven, take up with a knife and roll at once into lily shape. Bake but four or five at a time, because if the cakes cool even a little they will break. Fill each with a little beaten and sweetened cream.

Remedy For Coughing.

Often a severe spell of coughing can be checked by drinking down as quickly as possible a glassful of cold [illegible] coughing at night, try this remedy, which, it is claimed, never fails: Wring a cloth out of strong carbolic acid water just before getting into bed and hang it over the head of the bed. The whiff of odor from the cloth will prevent the cough.

State President Advises

The members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, now in session in Phil- [illegible] cellent advice by their state president. If generally followed by those who were born abroad it would insure to their benefit and to the welfare of the republic.

No man is to be judged by the accident of birth. Those of us who saw the light for the first time beneath the Stars and Stripe ought to be good citizens. Sometimes, however, we are far below the standard. The man who had fewer opportunities in his childhood than we may prove better citizens. We should never forget what our country demands of us in the way of patriotic service. Our larger opportunities impose heavier responsibilities.

The state president of the Ancient Order of Hibernians urge all the members who are not already American citizens to become so at the earliest opportunity. He suggested that the order should emphasize the value and importance of citizenship and he would have the individual members prove ever worthy and patriotic lovers of the land of their birth or adoption. It's exellent advice for every American citizen. We should all be Americans, regardless of the spot of earth whichs heitered us in infancy, and we should all be animated by an earnest and sincere desire to prove by our obedience to law and our devotion to the principles of freedom that we are indeed worthy of the honors which cluster about American citizenship.—Tribune.

Rotten.

New South Brownsville has now furnished the making of a first class scandal in which a matrimonial misfit figured largely.

The lady and her husband have had a speaking acquaintance for some time but she did not like keeping house for him and frequently absented herself from the domicile that was not congenial to her. She has kept some boarders, among them a drummer in whose company she was seen frequently. The husband had seen them come down street and, gathering some friends, awaited their return with a large supply of aged eggs. Soon the couple came back and as they stepped on the porch a well directed volley gave them a lovely shower of golden yellow and stickey white.

They stood not on the order of their going but got in as quickly as possible. They didn't stop to pick up the shells and the way that odoriferous deposit got in the lady's back hair and down the man's back was a fright.

Boilers Suffer From Acid.

United States Inspector George H. Atkinson, of steamboat boilers, in the local district, said yesterday that rivermen are having trouble with the leaking of boilers on the stemboats, which is caused by the acid in the local rivers. About 8 or 10 boats recently have been put out of commission, while the boilers are being repaired.

Inspector Atkinson says that the acid used in wire and tin mills is the cause of the trouble. When unfit for further use in the mills, it is thrown in the rivers.

While the rivers are at the low stage, this acid is not washed away and eats into the rivets and plates of the boilers, making the calking imperfect. When the rivers are high, this acid is washed away and steamboat boilers are not damaged so much by it.
